

Making Learning Fun: Interactive Activities to Build Student Motivation and Engagement in Your Classroom

By: Amy Rich

Poll Question

How do you engage your students in the classroom?

- A. I get to know their interests
- B. I show them I respect them
- C. I cultivate trust with them
- D. I allow them to make decisions about the coursework
- E. I ask them to share their opinions

Goals

- 1) Identify factors that increase student motivation
- 2) Equip teachers with tips for engaging students
- 3) Share interactive activities that can motivate students to learn

Motivation Matters

Motivation: a force or influence that causes someone to do something

Higher motivation = Higher student engagement

Students who are motivated to learn:

- have higher achievement
- better understand concepts
- are more satisfied with school
- drop out less

Intrinsic Motivation Vs. Extrinsic Motivation

What's the difference between intrinsic motivation and extrinsic motivation?

Intrinsic Motivation vs. Extrinsic Motivation

Intrinsic motivation: the natural curiosity and desire to learn that we are all born with

- ❖ Playing a game because it's enjoyable
- ❖ Competing in a class contest for the challenge

Extrinsic motivation: performing a behavior/engaging in an activity to receive an external reward

- ❖ Studying to get a good grade
- ❖ Competing in a class contest to win a prize

Tip #1

Create a Healthy Learning Environment

✉ Build good relationships

✉ Cultivate trust

✉ Indicate interest

✉ Help your students to believe in themselves

Tip #3

Incorporate Your Students' Interests
Into Your Lessons

Tip #4

Engage Them in the Learning Process

How can we better engage our students?

- Let your students make choices
- Allow them to share their expectations
- Teach students to reflect and take control over their own learning
- Empower students by showing them where they can access additional resources
