

English as a foreign language (EFL) immersion camps organized during school holidays benefit all stakeholders: language learners, their parents, schools, and language teachers. At such camps, language learners get a chance to experience massive exposure to English through fun, engaging activities and meaningful communication outside the formalities of a classroom.

(See page 2)

americanenglish.state.gov/forum

americanenglish.state.gov