THE WORLD ON PAPER

ANTHOLOGY 3
AMERICAN ENGLISH GLOBAL COMICS VIRTUAL EXCHANGE PROGRAM
3RD COHORT
Amid the coronavirus pandemic, more education and exchange leaders are seeking ways to use technology to reach international teachers whose lives have been disrupted by closed schools, cancelled trips, and prolonged isolation. The Department of State, Bureau of Educational and Cultural Affairs (ECA), saw the need to pivot face-to-face exchanges, run through the English Access Microscholarship Program, to a virtual exchange learning experience connecting English as a Foreign Language (EFL) professionals to a new pedagogy that could be applied to future classroom teaching.

The 2021 Winter American English Global Comics Virtual Exchange was the third of three pilots for a 10-week virtual exchange between English as a Foreign Language (EFL) teachers nominated by Regional Language Officers (RELOs) at various US embassies and consulates across the globe. The objective of this exchange was to use storytelling through comics to highlight a community challenge within participants’ social and cultural context while offering new pedagogy for language learning.

The purpose of the exchange involved teaching content knowledge of graphic novels and the linguistic skills of storytelling in English. The program used the Global Competence Matrix framework which involves four categories of global education which include: 1-Investigating the World, 2-Recognizing Perspectives, 3-Communicating Ideas, and 4-Taking Action. This framework provides participants with the tools to examine their colleagues’ and their own perspectives on issues of relevance to their own communities. The use of Project Based Learning (PBL) methodology guided participants through collaborative teamwork with a final project involving critical thinking, problem solving, cross cultural communication, collaboration, and innovation of this anthology of comic stories that represent the global community of the participants of this virtual exchange.

This collective project was a work of love. We hope you enjoy reading their stories and getting to know these superhero teachers. The final project required participants to work together in their teams to identify a challenge, then to create a comic story where a superhero they created can solve it. The participants created comics in a variety of ways, by using Pixton, an online comic-creator, hand-illustrating, and/or combining techniques.

It has been my sincere pleasure to work with these courageous, talented, and enthusiastic teachers over the past 10 weeks. Please enjoy this anthology of their work.

ABOUT THIS VOLUME

This volume contains collected comic stories from the participants of the AE Global Comics Virtual Exchange Program Pilot, Winter 2021. Participants created these comics using Pixton EDU, hand-illustrating, or by using a combination of digital tools and comics. Comics are generally read in panels, left to right.

EDITOR'S NOTE

Please note the stories you'll find below contain a variety of perspectives and viewpoints, that may or may not reflect the U.S. Department of State’s foreign policy. The comics have been left un-edited to capture the teacher's voices in full. We hope you enjoy this collection of stories!
In Iraq and Mongolia before the Covid-19, we were having our regular Access classes with low use of digital educational tools. It is worth mentioning, that our classes were very energetic classes with many physical and grouping activities that help students learning the English language.

In both Iraq and Mongolia like elsewhere, due to the Covid pandemic, the Access classes stopped temporarily, which influenced negatively students’ and teachers’ progress.

Technology is a good solution, neither teachers nor students are familiar with the technology. Oh no...., I kind of feel we are lost.

Anyways I think it is a good start, and we have to develop our skills what I don’t know is how can we do that?

A picture can describe a hundred words “Bob said” in our first T2T session. And now Pod 1 is saying “A Picture can describe a thousand words”

Wise survivor has a magic umbrella that helps her to travel wherever she wants. This time, she has traveled to Iraq in order to solve some challenges with her Happy friend.

Online class rules

Superheroes with all the students agreed on the new online class rules.

Superheroes are learning technology without distance and time challenges.
This is my national hero who is named ‘Wise Survivor.’ The most common character in Mongolian folk tales are the superheroes that survive their enemies or challenges by their supernatural intelligence or power of knowledge. My superhero is one representation of them. She has a magic umbrella, which helps her to travel wherever needs her help or wise decisions or solutions.

In our modern world, the only one who has extraordinary energy, who solves their challenges with the power of knowledge is the TEACHER. They are all superheroes.

Mr. Peace is from Iraq. He is half-Kurdish half-Turkman and wearing Arabic clothes. He is willing to convey the message of peace to Iraqi people.

The first most widely spoken language in Iraq is Arabix. The second one is Kurdish and the third one is Turkman and the Syriac language. This greatly diverse combination of languages in Iraq leads to many civil wars unfortunately.

To that end, Mr. Peace plays his role as a peacebuilder with his lantern representing hope among the Iraqi people.

Before I joined the AE Comics VX program I was always saying individually that “online classes will never help in the learning process.”

But now, my saying changed to a loud voice and I say, “It is all about both tools and experience.” Thankfully we could add a lot to our teaching experiences through learning many tools during the program.

“This program revealed my creativity…and built my creative confidence in digital technology.”

“It is all about tools and experience.”

This is a story about the Bosnian Kingdom and its knight and king. Together with his king, the knight is someone who holds a flower and he offers peace to everyone. He does not have a sword. His king is rightful and honest and brings tolerance into his kingdom. His power led him to bring peace into his kingdom but also to unite people and make them feel safe.

Later on, the knight and his king traveled to the time when this country was involved in a brutal war. People who lived together forever suddenly became enemies. Besides the politicians who started this awful war, media were also a tool to manipulate information and people. That was the reason for the king and his knight to appear and explain to people a powerful lesson to stop the war. They wanted to restore peace and unite people again.

Of course, the knight used his powers to show up in the dreams of many people. He brought them back to the time of the powerful Bosnian Kingdom and showed them how to live together with respect and mutual understanding.
Centuries have passed but people were still united, together and strong.

Hello neighbors! How are you?

Fine. Thanks. See you tonight?

But... during 1990s people were confused and terrible war began.

What happened? You... people... have changed....!! You are brothers not enemies... Why??

The war destroyed families, schools... People who have lived together for centuries were separated.

You started the war...!

No... You started first!

Shame on you!!

You liars!!! I do not want to see you again!!

I must restore peace and unite my people again!

A hope is restored, people are united, and we are finally happy.

And few weeks later...

I had a strange dream about a knight who took me to Bosnian kingdom. I felt peace!

My knight will deliver the message to people and show them how to restore the peace!

Me too. The noble knight showed me Bosnian kingdom, the rightful king and people were happy. Let's restore the peace together, my friend.
The AE Comics virtual exchange helped me to learn how to use comics and graphic novels with my students. Now I see many possibilities for how to make classes more engaging by using comics. This was also a wonderful experience to meet my dear colleagues all over the world, mentors, and the rest of the VX team. Class-to-class exchanges were fantastic and they are just the beginning of our international journey.
Super Sphinx is my national superhero. It has the head of a human being, a woman, to symbolize wisdom and the body of a lion to represent power and strength. It lies in front of the three pyramids in Giza, Egypt, specifically, the middle one. This distinguished location enables Super Sphinx to guard the treasures buried all over Egypt.
Super Sphinx reproaches them for stealing their national treasures. He also tells them that those treasures belong to the international community. You had information, yet used it the wrong way. "You should've reported the authorities about the treasure, but you didn't. So, you'll be imprisoned for life inside the Great Pyramid."

Egypt knows about the theft. She asks Super Sphinx for help.

Super Sphinx assures her that he will stop the thieves and teach them the lesson of their lives.

Stop thieves! You're arrested.

Ok. Carry carefully with me.

Let's carry this mummy up and leave quickly.

The thieves are arrested. Super Sphinx sends for them.

Super Sphinx sends his men to stop and arrest the thieves.
“The learning process has no limits.”

The learning process has no limits. It’s an interesting feeling to learn something new every now and then!
Born and raised among a tribe belonging to the Saharan desert of Algeria, Maxen Hannibal had a promising life waiting for him, fueled by his sense of discovery, curiosity and niche for archaic antiques. The tribe leader as well as his parents had high hopes for him as he showed signs of remarkable mental acuity.

Maxen grew up to become a prominent archeologist among his peers. He was chosen to be the next leader of his tribe after the passing of elder leader.

As seeds of turmoil began to grow across the land of Algeria, things were not looking hopeful for the Saharan people mainly because security and safety were largely absent. Saharan people were marginalized compared to other regions elsewhere.

Civil war embarked when a group of rebels and terrorists started killing off innocent people. Then came the day where rain of terrors fell down on Maxen’s tribe. Many people were slaughtered
In a lurid way. Maxen led the survivors to the notorious cave known as “Tamouth.” (Tamouth cave witnessed the tragedy of napalm execution, where a great number of Algerian civilians were killed by the French tyrants using Napalm bombs in an attempt to seek refuge from the agonizing terrorists.)

However, malice didn’t end there; terrorist tracked the trail of refugees and launched a final attack that would kill whoever was in that cave. Maxen and his tribe took refuge in that same damned cave and were exterminated all.

The “hamsa” lantern that he once found on a discovery adventure in “Seffar” the lost city, and the biggest open museum in the world, absorbed all the energy, hopes and dreams of the innocent souls in that cave. The lantern projected that energy into the two last dying beings which are Doctor Hannibal Maxen and his fennec that he once saved in Seffar.

They were resurrected by the power of hamsa to fulfill the dream of all our nation of having peace.
The Algerian civil war started and the media held a big responsibility for it.

Because of media manipulation, the conflict was projected in real life and a lot of civilians lost their lives...

PeaceKeeper used his superpower to stop the civil war, to influence the media, and to restore peace.

Everyone is trying to restore our country.

The attacks and the riots are becoming less frequent!

The media debates had a bad influence and separated the public opinion between politicians and army leaders.

Let’s sign the new laws to restore peace!

Let us end the war!

People celebrated the end of the civil war in all of the country.

Although PeaceKeeper could end the war just by using his superpowers, he chose to reason and to persuade the media to calm things down, and it worked.
PeaceKeeper prevents wars and civil wars by using his tool which are mind reading and time traveling.
Tifinagh is the Amazigh alphabet which is really old “3rd century BCE to the 3rd century AD. It has been chosen recently to be the alphabet of Marvel’s superhero universe watches by Audemars Piguet.
Hannibal means “the clever one” in Amazigh.
Maxen means, “the man who performs/does his job properly and as it should be done” in Amazigh.
The “ propósito” on PeaceKeeper’s costume actually is a tifinagh letter for “Hna” which is “peace.”
The fennec is the national symbol of Algeria.
It is the guardian of the superhero, and it helps him to teleport and mind read evil people’s intentions.
The Hamsa lantern: it traps and purifies evil souls and, it is PeaceKeeper’s tool to travel back in time to prevent the war.

“You made us feel like children again.”

I will never forget how you made us feel like children again. All I can say is that the AE Comics VX facilitators were all perfect in terms of teaching, sharing and training. Thank you for the good memories, and this experience shall never be forgotten!
Mr. Brilliant, an expert in media and political sciences, saw, for decades, the negative effects of global misinformation and false media on his own country, Iraq. Iraq was known for terrorism and conflict, and was accused of having weapons of mass destruction in order they could invade it. The world started viewing Iraq as a minefield where no one dares to approach. As a result, Iraq no longer saw any development; it deteriorated.

As he is brilliant, Mr. Brilliant thought that to let the world trust Iraq again, as not all Iraqis are bad, there must be peace-building campaigns and advertisements to show the real identity of Iraq. Also, there must be censorship over global media and Iraqis should know what kind of news reports the world reports about Iraq. People should be careful about media, as it plays a vital role in changing reality around us; it makes us see the world according to the media agents.
This negative perspective has not only affected Iraq, but also several Arab countries. The Middle East is represented like that. But not every person or place is a source of war.

It's difficult but not impossible. A history of dictatorship, war and political crises has undermined international trust in Iraqi authority. To restore trust and change that perspective needs time.

Now how can you change that?

We should have censorship over media and know what kind of media news the world reports about Iraq. In this case, we may change the world’s perspective about Iraq.

We should also make peace-building campaigns and advertisements to order to show the true aspects and identity of Iraq. Doing so, we may grab the world’s attention.

What do you think is the solution?

People should be careful of media. They should know the reason behind a news report, who reports information, and when and where is reported. They should analyze and evaluate information correctly, and don’t be mislead by parties. Media is like magic in that it changes reality according to the reporter's bias. For someone, this is a sea, but for someone else there is a harmful shark in this sea.
“AE Comics VX enabled me to express my ideas in a creative way.”

AE Comics VX has opened doors to a new creative method of teaching. It has enabled me to express my ideas in a creative way. Using images in teaching is amazing and interesting!

Bringing a change in media requires making anti-misinformation internal initiatives and then global ones.
Alexa Sancar was a psychiatrist who had been working on Ikigai (reason for being) when she had a mental break down which made her think that she was going insane. Soon after she found that it hadn’t gone wrong. On the contrary, she had managed to figure out the reason she thought she was going nuts.

Once she grabbed a book or respected all around her, she had the magic of healing any bad vibes, thoughts or intentions. She just yelled ‘Justice!’ then justice was there. She once screamed as ‘Happy Children!’ and BOOM all children around the world were where they had to be.

Once she was aware all people on Earth are there for a reason, she believed in herself. She was really making progress but something really went wrong. She realized that if she stops reading, caring and searching that goodness went nowhere. Unless she had books, she had nothing.

Legend says that Alexa is still alive but she is losing her hope day by day. And it is believed that when people start to look for their Ikigai she will appear everywhere. You may not recognize her as she is dressed casual and unsophisticated.

The secret is: look deeper inside and around you. Remember that looking is only an act but seeing is art. See your reason for being and you will see Alexa then.
Hold on! What about us? Aren’t we also also destroying what we need around us. Why are we all here? Is it worth all those ambitions, competitions, wars, bias?

I’ll sneak into minds who are looking for answers, reason for being into children’s minds whom we entrust our future to their bright and lively point of views

And I will always know that I will never walk alone. Those who are searching for the meaning of a decent, fair life for all will be my guide
In the end, we will have what we give with love.

I will start with correcting falsified news poising mind. I will show them a way to search and not believe in whatever is stood in our way.

Since there didn't use to be borders a long time ago, our minds won't have borders as well. We will come together, teach together through clean media.

One way or another we belong to same sky.
“Heroes are everywhere.”

All dreams will come true when it is the right time. AE Comics opened up a door to my past, now and future. Heroes are everywhere.
Peaceman observed that people are educated but the sense of compassion and empathy is missing and it is destroying the peace.

Along with using his education, Peaceman spreads positivity through his magic words that he writes from his magic pen. He believes that peace, education, and compassion are the values that are connected and if these aren’t connected, we are less able to empathize with others. He believes that when we try to have a peaceful society with compassion and education, we will have a better place to live in.

He is a peace agent, educated, humble and, a firm believer in peace. Peaceman has a mission to bring change through words.
But how will you change his thoughts?

We can change the perception by spreading positivity and by inspiring words.

It's time to save the world...!

Peaceman is ready to influence the builder with his magic words.

He was right, this place is giving me more happiness and peace.

Do you want to know what were the magic words?

Remember one thing! When we take care of the trees and nature and they take care of us.

Pea...ace...man...!! Did I do anything wrong?

Take this, I have written something from my magic pen. Try this and you will feel happier.

But.. I want to earn more and it gives me peace.

The builder decided to give a try to Peaceman’s advice.

"In the trees, in the breeze, seek nature's peace and bliss. Planting a tree is like planting a seed of hope and peace, experience it yourself."
“This program has given me the direction to use comics in my classroom.”

I always wondered how comics can be used in the classroom to teach. This program has given me the direction to use comics in my classroom. I am going to use it the idea of national superheroes in my classroom as well.
Ali Sadpara, Pahaad Zada (The Son of Mountains), was born in Sadpara—a small village in Skardu. He was a high altitude Pakistani mountaineer who successfully completed the First Ever Winter Ascent to the Nanga Parbat and climbed 8 of the 14 eight-thousanders.

He uses his snow glasses on his expeditions that help him in foreseeing the future of his country bright with the torch that he used to hold in his hands. His torch helps him in moving towards his dream that was seeing peace in his country by raising his country’s flag on the top of K2.

On 18 February 2021, Pakistani authorities announced that he was presumed to be dead.

On his journey as a porter, Pahaad Zada along with other mountaineers, successfully completed the first ever Winter ascent to the summit of Nanga Parbat in 2016. In his career, he also became famous for successfully climbing a grand total of eight eight-thousanders.

Lifting the luggage of tourists and mountaineers as a porter, was the only solution he found to take off the burden of the challenges dangling on his head.

When growing up as an adult he found the challenges like poverty, harsh weather, lack of resources, family responsibilities and terrorism were not only dangling like a sword on his head but they were also affecting the name, fame and economy of his country.

How would it feel going on the height of 8000ft with a flag of my country in my hands and a foreign climber capturing my picture with my flag?

Working as a porter—his ancestral occupation, he started knitting another dream in his mind.

What if I become a porter to earn the bread and butter for my family?

Enlighten your Country’s Name, Raise your Flag on the Peak of K2

Foreseeing the light that his dream was throwing everywhere like a lighthouse, on the evening of 4 February 2021, Pahaad Zada, along with his 21-year-old son and a team of two more mountaineers left for a joint-ascent of K2 (towards the aim of his life).
I found working on Panel Frenzy a useful takeaway from AE Comics VX that I am planning to use in my Access classes to enrich students’ story writing experience.

“Overcoming one's hesitance is the first step towards confident

On 18 February 2021 according to Pakistani authorities, Pahaad Zada was officially presumed dead wearing all his achievements as a crown on his head, , singers were paying tribute to him and he moved towards the world of selflessness leaving all its challenges crushed under his feet.

“I knew, it might cost my life, But I had to do this for Pakistan.”

“One can still listen to the story based on the life of a renowned climber Ali Sadpara- An Epitome of Patriotism.

“In climbing...there are two outcomes. Life or Death and you must find the courage to accept either possibility. Same is with Life... good or bad, accept it and change it or move on.”
The name of my superhero is Mr. Strength. His name refers his mental strength, positive energy and true spirit. The bright smile on his face reflects his helpful attitude towards helpless people. He founded an organization in our country to help those who are unprivileged.

Since the horrifying arrival of covid pandemic period, he has been continually working round the clock with his organization to help the unfortunate by giving all kinds of support. So my superhero always spreads the hope of survival in everyone’s mind. He never sits idly when he finds his surroundings are filled with problems.

He loves to keep himself busy bringing solutions to every single problem because he believes that every problem has a solution. His strength comes from his positive thought and limitless patience and it brings strength to whole human race.
Hey my torch of strength! Please increase my mental strength. I have to bring out some solutions from my head.

You are living in such a nice country. But I never imagined that here one has to stay unmoved for so long on the road. It reminds me of my country Bangladesh. So I am going to keep my head and hands busy in these days. Every country has some certain problems, and I always run for solutions.

You always appear like the sun!

Air is being polluted continuously because of heavy traffic. I take it as a consequence of overpopulation.

You hit the main reason. But you have to be educated enough to understand this problem and think twice before having more children.

It will be great if I visit some places with you and discuss with people about the negative effects of overpopulation. What do you say my torch? Word has more power I think.

Don't be angry please. Look, having more children means allowing more people to live in your country. In this case, we need more places to live in which leads to deforestation. And....

Why are you not getting my point of view? I take the number of my children as my level of strength.

........ We need more furniture which again compels us to cut trees. And....
........ Excessive number of vehicles which results in traffic jams, releases pollutant gas into the environment. In this way, environment is affected by us.

You give us oxygen. I love you. I learn kindness from you.

I want to buy some seeds and saplings from nursery. I will distribute those among people and they have to pay nothing.

Great initiative!

Dear friends, please plant these saplings in the balcony or wherever you find some space and nurture them to protect our environment.

The more we will try to protect our nature, the safer our life will be.

The End

I hope this short trip of mine will help bring positive change in this part of the world.
“Comics are a fantastic medium to facilitate learners’ learning process.”

Now I am filled with so many creative ideas with comics. Before this experience, I never had any idea about the diverse usage of comics especially in the classroom. AE Comics VX has completely changed my perception towards comics. Now I strongly believe that comics can be a fantastic medium to facilitate learners’ learning process and increase their creativity level.
Azaad was a teacher in his town, teaching the townsfolk how to read and write, and raise their voice against injustice. This didn't go down well with the local mob boss.

One fateful night, goons beat up Azaad and left him for dead in a secluded coal mine. The mine was secluded because it had been destroyed by a huge meteor crashing in it a year back.

When goons threw Azaad, he fell on the dying embers of the meteor, which gave him superpowers. He continues to teach the townsfolk, while his alter-ego fights injustice all year round.
If a population is illiterate and uneducated, sheer numbers will only add to the problems. These people need proper education; more schools with easy access to free education. That's a start!

It is time for Azaad to help people. Let me change into my alter ego.

Azaad finally realized that nations need better education to improve the quality of life. He has already started building schools all over Bangladesh and India, using his elemental powers to construct everything from scratch.

From a polluted suffocating environment to a clean and green one, Azaad is helping nations learn how to improve life by inculcating knowledge through easily accessible education even in remote corners.
“AEComics has opened a world of opportunities for me to realize the dream of using comics in education.”

I’ve always wanted to make and use comics in education. AE Comics VX has opened up a world of opportunities for me to realize that dream.
Copan Galel was a real Mayan King from Honduras and he was my inspiration for The Great Galel. He has a magic jade stone which is the source of his power. He is a very strong man who can feel nature through his body. He used to fight monsters that threatened the Earth with their wrath, such as hurricanes, earthquakes and more natural disasters. After his last fight on Earth he was called by the ancient gods among the stars to join them because the world was in peace.

Thousands of years later when he was about to finish his journey, some thieves tried to steal the magic stone that was keeping his body and he was awoken. Now he has to give his powers to another human being with a pure heart in order to save the world from greed, evil and corruption.
How do we know you are telling the truth? We are tired of being robbed by politicians or liars like you...

I am not a liar or a politician, I just want my people to move on and have a better life, I plan to open my own restaurant next to your shoe workshop...

I want to see that happen!!! And if it is true, I will apologize to you and of course apply for those funds so I can have my shoe store.

That night, Galel finally arrived to his sacred place and Jose could feel the magic stone’s power within his body...

I can feel all this power through my veins, I... I... AM THE GREAT GALEL!!!

The world has changed and so my aspect, my suit is different and I feel ready to fight for my people and my world...
A new era had begun. Jose was now the hero the people needed, and if evil appeared, the magic stone would transform him into Gaiel one more time.

Thanks to all my efforts I can finally open my restaurant, my town is now improving and tourists are coming to visit since businesses opened.

Now we have hotels, the Mayan ruins open for public, bakeries, restaurants, people are buying coffee and we even have a shoe store!!!

Everything is at peace now... but I have a feeling... I will be ready for enemies that will come to us.

So you are telling me you lost the stone, and now for some reason everybody opened a business and the town is flourishing out of nowhere?

I will show how things should be done... that town will have to pay taxes now and they must say where they got money from, they had no resources we stole everything from them!

Dark days will come, but our hero will save the world from evil and a modern monster, corruption...
A comic is not only a graphic novel. A comic is the world on paper. Silent words that are loud in your head can give you the most beautiful chill on your back when the super hero defeats evil or saves the world.

Comics brought us together, a group of strangers that learned to create friendships and beautiful relationships through creating amazing artifacts and projects.
Ixbalam and Noj come from very different backgrounds, but they have experienced firsthand the disparities and injustices in Guatemala.

Ixbalam is strong and is able to control the forces of nature to protect others whilst Noj has psychic powers which allow him to reach deep into the true essence of each person. The sources of their powers are the original protectors of the country who had been forgotten for more than two centuries, but who still roamed the land looking for worthy successors.

Together, Ixbalam and Noj fight against corruption, injustice, violence and guard the communities against natural disasters.
Hey Noi! I'm very thirsty and tired. Is there any water we could buy a cold drink?

This is an agricultural community. The nearest store is in another town. Sorry.

Is that little girl the one? It's so exciting!

Yes, she is the one who will bring change here.

I know.

Hey! I would've had cold drinks!

Anita felt sad because she hadn't been able to offer a cold drink to Xbalam. She had always wanted to open a store. But the mayor required a permit. Things just didn't work out.

She talked to her parents.

She got the needed permits.

And although she didn't have a lot of money, she decided to start small.

Soon became a wooden stall with cold drinks...

What started as a small stand near the main road.

And with time, the first brick structure with electric power.

Others followed her example.

Now that the mayor is no longer corrupt, maybe I can get a permit to open a store.

A tienda is the Guatemalan version of a convenience store.
"I think that superheroes appeal to global audiences and learners because they present an aspirational ideal. Their personalities tend to portray imitable qualities, and they set a standard of what being good means in society."

The most significant experience for me is the value of international exchanges for student development and virtual networking.
Matsé is a Shamanic indigenous healer of the Amazon Rainforest.

Her qualities as a hero are wisdom, great understanding, empathy and communication. She has a good grasp of the mysteries of the jungle and can evoke the wisdom of the spirits of the rainforest. Magical flowers sprout from her hands as gifts she brings to those in need.

Matsé is dedicated to vanquishing hatred, strengthening the value of science and the ancient indigenous wisdom, promoting debate and seeking true understanding.
My job is always to support the village’s artisanal production, so that young people can continue investing in culture as a way to supplement their income.

And do not forget about their weaving power! Their improvement in weaving chambira has been great!

This is the chambira palm tree. Its leaves are carefully harvested, dyed and woven to make beautiful crafts.

Artisans have decided to create non-traditional designs improving their craftsmanship.

But when the rainforest gets chopped down, so does our art, livelihoods and traditions.

Logging companies clear cut the area and burn all of the undergrowth.

The destruction of forest is a tragedy that could destroy over 750 species of trees and countless animals.
We've got to overcome our limitations and also stop deforestation! Indigenous crafts benefit us all economically, socially and culturally! I must find someone who can help us.

Once upon a time there lived deep within the Amazon Rainforest an indigenous Amazon shaman! She was considered a healer who had a good grasp of the mysteries of the jungle. She could evoke the knowledge and the Shamanic wisdom of the forest spirits.

She is here to empower the indigenous peoples not only for rainforest conservation, but also for developing a more sustainable and self-sufficient economy.

Oh, who are you?

Hey, Apahu! I'm Matsé! I'm the healer who can connect you to our indigenous shamanic ancestry! I come with a gift and I bring understanding and inspiration so as to strengthen your community.

Thank you, Matsé! I'll do what you say.

Take this flower and keep it! Be sure to weave bridges just like our ancestors did and connect with the universal wisdom of the rainforest. A solution may come. Be brave and be wise.
I've got to go back to the community! I must tell Kayke and Aikiti about Matsé and this gift.

Listen, an indigenous healer came to me in the forest and gave me this flower! She said I may find inspiration and connection through it. I guess we can help our community now!

Wow!

This is so special Aphah! I know you can make it!

Apahu goes online to connect her community to the world through professional networking. She starts a collaboration with designers across boarders.

I'm opening up an online store to explore new ways to market my community's crafts.

Artisans felt empowered and represented by the collaborative bridges Apahu's managed to build after following Matsé's wise guidance.

Apahu's commitment and inspiration helped her people to continue the fight for the preservation of their land and brought artisans together by providing them a channel and a market place where they could sell their products online.
“Important social issues could be mirrored in the eyes of other people's realities.”

Working with creativity, communication and new tools brought new ways of working and interacting in the classroom.

Problematizing national contexts and seeking solutions to issues ended up promoting debate and critical views of important social matters.

Virtual exchanges have built bridges so that important social issues could be mirrored in the eyes of other people's realities.
Libertador X is a young boy who lost his father during a protest in Venezuela. Now he wants to fight for justice.

He lives in a barrio (a low income neighborhood) with his mother and a younger sister. He goes to college and does freelance jobs to help his mother.

His superpower is the ability to read minds and teletransporting himself.
“I have always been passionate about comics and having the opportunity to work with them.”

I have always been passionate about comics and having the opportunity to work with them was something I longed for.

Now I know how to use this amazing tool with students of all ages and my classes will definitely be more fun.
Yara, a Brazilian superhero, is an indigenous descendent woman who represents nature, being both peaceful but also strong and impactful.

She remains alive as long as our forests are not entirely destroyed, and she answers the call for help of the well-intended.

Yara offers a newer take on those who fight for the environment. She also helps people to get their basic human rights: education, housing, and food.
Back in their community, Yara helped Pedro and Carol's mothers start cooperative enterprise of weavers in the community so women in the favela can make a living exporting Brazilian handmade clothing. So also improved the school facilities so kids won't abandon school. Yara could start her English classes so she could improve her chances to get in a university and fulfill her dreams.
“Sharing experiences with teachers all over the world was an incredible experience.”

I certainly will be using comics in future activities to help my students express themselves in English.
Marcos is from a small town in the countryside of Panama. When he was a little boy, he used to play with his friends in the big and green valley and hop over the rocks of the river. Marcos had a happy life in that small town.

After he finished primary school, he moved to the capital to continue studying and become a professional. Later in ten years, Marcos graduated. He returned to his town. He got sad when he realized that it was different. No kids were playing in the valley. The river was not as clean and beautiful as he thought. His neighbors were suffering without a job.

He was walking in the valley when suddenly a spirit of an old tree called Panama appeared. It knew how worried the boy was, so the Spirit of the Great Panama tree lent him its power so that the boy could turn the valley green again. And so he became the Green Lightning.
He talked with the teacher, students, and parents from the community. People started planting, and Green Lightning made them grow faster. Together, they created a monthly festival. They would sell their vegetables, plants, and handicrafts. Kids learned how to keep clean the streets and rivers and to become tour guides at the festival. More and more visitors have started coming to visit the beautiful and green town with an extraordinary climate. There were more restaurants, shops, and parks everywhere.

Marcos not only made his town as green as he remembered, but he also helped people find jobs.
I asked you to come so that together we can organize a festival in the city. Tourists can come to buy your growing and enjoy our nature.

We are planting trees and growing gardens, so more visitors would be interested in coming.

Great job! With my green power, I will make them grow faster.

Students learn about the history and geography of the town and the importance of keeping it clean.

Excellent! Are you ready to be tour guides during the Festival?

Thanks to the festival I could sell my fruits and vegetables.

Excellent, keep planting many of them because there will be more Festivals every month.

I have restored the valley's flora, now people from other regions can visit our beautiful town.

We are creating handicrafts to sell at the festival every month.

People would like to buy them! It is a good source of work.

Hey guys! Check this handicraft I just bought.
“Through comics, my students could share their feelings.”

I learned how to create my comic on Pixton, but most importantly, I realized that through comics, my students could share their feelings, have fun, and practice using the English language.
Buto appears to help people in desperate needs. He, sometimes she, is inspired from traditional folk stories, such as Tam Cam. He/she is like the Genie in Disney’s Aladdin. But the difference is that Buto does not serve a boss or owner of a magic lamp.

Buto likes to help small children, especially kids when they are bullied at schools, and women when they are maltreated by their husbands or bad people. He/she will appear when a desperate person cries and there is no one to help them.
Certainly. On one condition though...

Okay, I really want to know where dad is now. Maybe he is in danger. Maybe the magic mirror can help.

Am I flying? I can’t believe it! WHOOOO!

Here we are. Let’s look around.

Here are magic glasses! Put them on!

Great! I can see now. Oh! Is that the mirror?

Yes. Indeed it is! Let’s ask your question now.

Mirror, mirror on the wall. Where is my dad?

He’s now in a desert, in the hand of a dangerous bandit. I’m afraid he’s going to die soon!

Don’t worry! I’ll help you!

Really? Can you?

Yes! Let’s go!

LET’S GOOOO!

LET’S GOOOO!
“It is important to have activities for the students to reflect on the characters. They can try to put themselves in the characters' shoes and discuss about what would they have done otherwise. This is to develop their critical thinking skill as well as lead them to think outside the box. “
The name of my superhero is Betawi Son’s of the Sun. Incidentally, the costume worn by my superhero is similar to our traditional cloth from Betawi, an ethnic group from Jakarta, Indonesia’s capital city. Therefore, his name is Betawi Son’s of the Sun.

Why sun? Our country is an agricultural country. Whatever planted on our soil, they grow well and the sun brings a major influence for our crops.

When the pandemic hit us, our nation’s economy became unstable. Many people, including myself, lost a job. A lot of people I know have sold their belongings to continue living. If the conditions get worse, our soil and the sun can help us survive.

The sun also brings a moral value to remind readers that no matter how hard your problems are, be like the sun that keeps shining every single day.
Stop spreading hatred! It's FALSE! You've made the pandemic life even worse!

Admit the fact! Everyone is born evil like me. Oh, smartie!!

There is no way for evils to win!

Grandpa, people now start stealing, robbing, bribing, and killing each other to survive in this harsh pandemic life. The evil almost wins. What did you mean by saying the sun? Why the sun?

The sun keeps rising, so does new hope. Use the magnificent power of the sun. The field and birdie are gifts for you, my dear grandson.

Birdie, do your magic. Spread your wings. We are the world's major agricultural nation. Make people pay attention to nature, work on our fertile soil under our bright sun shining. Lush field--great crops, come and never stop!
A lot of people start working on the fertile soil. Houses are also built by the field.

The global economy is recovering. The businesses are running. The crime rate is dropping.

As long as the sun keeps rising, a new hope is coming. Don’t give up!
“. . . I could be creative and I believe that others have their own hidden gem of creativity, too.”

AE Comics VX opened doors to my unrevealed creativity that I thought I had never had before.

I just found myself that I could be creative and I believe that others have their own hidden gem of creativity, too.
Selfish human activities and overconsumption of natural resources result in Thailand's air pollution from bad dust, industrial fumes, and wildfire smoke.

Mr. Bright, a superhero, and his companion, Blowy, a little elephant, as the national animal, will brighten up the environments using their power together with humans' actions.

The blue light means water, which he can splash to stop a wildfire. The red light means power, helping him create a green environment. Air pollution creates bad health for Thais.

He, Mr. Bright, a very smart and keen hero, will freshen the air for humans to have a better life quality by informing people who are in trouble how to prevent and stop causes of air pollution.
WHOOOSH!

We need your help!!

Mr. Bright!!

Mr. Bright!!

Do not worry, I and Blowy will freshen up your town.

We are now in a very bad "air pollution"!!

The little elephant, Blowy blew a special water spray to put out the forest fires. It becomes green now.

A new life begins!!!

And he is my companion, Little Blowy!

I am here for you.

Later, Mr. Bright rebuilt the green city.

Okay, we do promise!

You have to use more public transport such as buses, trains, or underground trains.
And now I am building an environmentally friendly industrial plant.

I will support the use of agricultural technology by using waste materials for energy.

It's so refreshing, Dad.

Superb!! finally, people can find their safe zone.

Thanks! Thank you, Mr.Bright! enjoy your new life!!

Here are the trees so that we can have good air to breathe.

See you again!!
“My world is much wider now.”

My world is much wider as I found that comics are materials that can produce a variety of teaching strategies to develop learners.
Amur is a powerful hero who gains his power from trees and he once helped Mongolians defeat Corona monster. The more trees are planted, the stronger he becomes. He is a kind and helpful one who likes being in clean environment, so he helped some students defeat Smokeyman who was a real toothache for everyone in Mongolia producing hazardous smoke and create fogs to poison children.

Amur got assistance from students and beat Smokeyman and brought clean air to the nation.
I am going to fight SMOKEYMAN! Go and tell Mongolians to plant as many TREES as possible.

What do we do? Could you please help us defeat “SMOKEYMAN”?

We can do it!
Sure, let’s start, friends.
Should we start here to plant trees?
We did it!

Now AMUR can defeat the SMOKEYMAN, right?
Woow, let’s celebrate!
Yes, he can.

How could you beat me?
I gain power from trees! You will not make pollution any more!

We could do this!
Yeeey! Air is clean now!
AMUR is the best.

Our bright future depends on us...
“By being a real role model for both our students and our colleagues we can build creative confidence together. We can spread creativity by sharing our creativity experience and ideas.”

I learned how to combine Pixton features and drawing in one comic panel.
Inspired by the watercraft sponsored by the band Coldplay in cleaning the Malaysian River through the Ocean Cleanup Project, a character was created in order to promote clean river.

Klang Man is named after the Klang River situated in the Selangor state, Malaysia. Klang Man acts as a superhero who makes sure that the Klang River is always clean by using his supergloves that acts as a magnet to take all the trashes out of the river. Not only that, he also uses his supergloves to create new materials out of the plastics or woods that he collected from the Klang River.

Rather than just clean, Klang Man also plays his role in helping others so that they can have a better future. In the comic, Klang Man helped a homeless man that he found nearby the Klang River by using his supergloves to create a shelter out of the plastics he collected from the Klang River. As a result, the homeless guy was saved from the cold and hot weather.
Help.... Help....

Wow... That's quite a lot for a day's work! Now let's turn these waste materials into something useful!

Help....

Where does that sound comes from?

What are you doing here, alone?

Help me young man... I don't have any home... I am starving...

How long have you been here?

I've been sleeping here for months. I'm freezing each night... Can you help and get me a shelter?

Hmm... I think I can use my superpower to change the plastics I collected just now as your shelter...

I hope it works.
Okay, here we go! Let's change these plastics into a shelter!

Yes! I did it!

Now you can sleep inside this tent. I hope you will be okay...

I feel slightly better young man... Thank you for helping!

No problem... I hope you can help me taking care of this river too.

I will try my best and have a watch around here.

Save our planet today by practicing the 3Rs- Recycle, Reduce, and Reuse. Let's stop polluting our rivers and show our love to the mother earth!

Klang Man keeps on taking care of the Klang river. Using his supergloves, he turns all plastics into things that might help other people.
“In this comic-making experience, most of my students created comics representing their own personal experiences. It is easier than thinking of something new for beginners in comic-making.”

I really enjoyed the new experiences on how to get students engaged by learning through comics.

As a teacher, I also learned how to be more creative in using all materials that I have in making my lessons more interesting.

Never mind! I will use my power to collect all the rubbish and create something new out of it!
Demos Dude was born in a small city Shymkent, Kazakhstan in very simple working family, but he wasn’t an ordinary child.

From the very beginning of his life he has a power of persuading people to do the right things, all because of his unusual eyes. He had to just look someone in the eye. It was enough to convince people. As a child he used his power to help his friends, relatives, other children. But as times passed he found out that very bad things are happening around and his eyes aren’t enough to convince people.

Then he decided to remove his power from his eyes to his hand. Instead of looking in someone’s eyes, he just has to hit the ground and a magic wave appears which has a conviction in it. The larger a wave is, the more people will be included in a mission.

Demos Dude works to address social injustices all over Kazakhstan. Who knows? Maybe in near future he will meet other superheroes and will fight together against all bad people around the world.
At the beginning the news wasn’t taken seriously.

Son, we have to talk. Online study is not serious, you study only a few hours. You are a big man, you have to work and help our family.

Nooooo!!!!! I am Demos Dude, I will not let it happen. Children have to study, not to work.
As you have noticed Demos Dude grew up and he had to change his outfit.

I am coming my friends!!!!

Parents have to protect, love, care about their children. DON'T let them work. DON'T ruin their childhood.

He hit the ground with his super strong hand and a magic wave passed along the Earth that reached each and every person

Do not dare to make children work!!!!

My mission is completed. Remember every child has the right to be educated, to have sweet childhood.

The term "Child Labour" has disappeared, adults have become aware of their role in society.

Children have the right to learn.

No more Child Labour!!!

Children have to study.

Education is important.

Hello my friends, thank you for reading my comic. DEMOS DUDE is a superhero, just remember We are all HEROES!!!

Bahor Umarbekova, Kazakhstan
"Don't be a dreamer, be a CREATOR, a PIONEER."

On my work and study I always seek additional information out of the program or book, but the AE Comics VX has Supplemental Resources. They are just incredible, the very place where I have found all my needs.
Mrs. Kham is a tree lover. She loves planting trees in the forests. People in her village think that she is crazy but Mrs. Kham does her planting every day. She thought and did her planting without caring other people who said bad things about her. She kept planting little trees around the lake and forest.

Many trees became young trees and strong ones. Big trees could give good fresh air and villagers could use wood from the trees. Some villagers helped her to plant more trees and they worked with her so well. She did her best to protect nature and lives from heavy rain.

She has planted trees for almost 20 years.
Lucky village: Good life for us. Thank you Mr. Khan to bring fresh air and good life to us.
“I have learned how to create my own comics to use in my class.”

I got good at sharing comic works from Access teachers around the world. I have learned how to create my own comics to use in my class.

I had a great time attending live events and group meetings in my pod 5 meeting. We had such a wonderful time learning and sharing our work together.
Super-Hygiene was born in Kuala Lumpur, Malaysia. He is helping people to ensure safe, clean and hygienic surroundings.

Protecting people from diseases is likely to be his main concern. He will always reach out to people that harm others and give them a lesson. He has superhuman powers. He has better senses and is stronger and faster than normal humans.

He is courageous and noble in doing his job. His appearance provides a special aura and positivity to others.
I'm very sorry Super-Hygiene. I will not do it again.

We shouldn't litter everywhere since this will pollute the nature.

How are you doing?

I'm a little sick, but it's okay.

The man apologised and promised not to do it again. Meanwhile.......

Oh, it's Super-Hygiene!

Achoo!!!

Kids, it's wrong to sneeze like that.
When we sneeze, we release germs. Those germs can spread to other people, this can lead us getting sick easily. It can be harmful to everybody.

So when we sneeze or cough, we should cover our mouth and nose with our hands or a handkerchief so the germs don’t spread to other people.

Thanks Super-Hygiene. Now I know what to do next time.

Remember everyone, always practice good deeds and keep our environment hygienic!!!
“My students had an amazing experience with comics to express their thought and their experience about certain topics that we discussed in class.”

Getting to know others inspiring educators, I learned about many handy tools and tips. AE Comics VX was the best experience ever throughout the journey.

I am Super-Hygiene!!!
