

Free

As human we are never free
No matter how much we look up to the sky
We were born to put our feet on the ground
Even when our head is in the cloud
Every second , we keeps wishing for something
Yet we can only hoping
The world is too harsh
I wish to protect something
But something had gone
There is nothing that scares us
Except that we got nothing we truly yearn
And things we truly want to protect without any selfishness
If you think you are free
Think again
We live to please and tolerate with people
No matter how much we think we are free
There will always be someone that we love that will stop our freedom
We tend to follow because we just want them to be happy
You're not free unless you never love anyone other than yourself
