

Just Hope

I had a dream I was a king
I wake up still king
I saw the fingers inside a ring and on my legs were some bee's stings
I flew away as the darkness follows
I can't even scream how terrifying it swallows
A torch of hope was coming from within Water falls from the sky to wash our sins
But again war is spread all over the universe
Human beings, nature and even animals
Though we must always hope for a better day
Cross your fingers and pray
Don't worry there is always a way
That's when I wake up and light's surrounding me Everybody's happy the it the he and the she
This is our earth in the 22nd century
Just hope
For the best and you'll see
