

Life

Why does life has to be so cruel?
Why life has many ups and downs?
Why when you try to fix your mistake it changes the question?

Why life has to be difficult?
Why do life has good and bad people?
Why does life have things that can harm or comfort you?

The word life is simple to say
But difficult to live it
Why sometime life makes
The people you love the most
Leave you?

Life, life, life
Something that makes us live in life
Something that we can't leave without
