

Life beautiful and pure

Life beautiful and pure in your way of being

Always surprising

Sometimes calm and quiet as the morning breeze

Sometimes turbulent as the waters of the ocean

And learning is eternal

Causing us to take lessons

Of deepest pains, we face

Or of the worst mistakes committed

And sometimes giving us immense joy

By things so simple

This is the life

That makes us go by unimaginable ways

Without knowing the right course to get

And what find the front

Simply beautiful and surprising,

In your essence
