

Love

I loved her like never
But the life with its ruthlessness told me "She has another"
I wished we could be together
And take her to my empire
Now, I'm afraid maybe she is cold without any cover
Maybe he makes her suffer
She is like a baby, she should be on her cradler
Whereas she isn't with me, she is in danger
I'm listening to the song which is close to her
It has beautiful feelings, not for me, for her lover
But I liked the song. I don't care she is my lover
Yesterday, Today; Tomorrow and forever
