

My Family

It's made up of love, tears and laughter
After years it is stronger because of memories
At times we don't like each other for a while
Yet we love each other for a life time
It's a place where values and characters are formed

Not due to riches but in its capacity to love
This is where you find those that encourage and Believe in you
Celebrate with you and comfort you
A family is where one feels most at home
Because you're always needed and loved
In this family we all feel important
We support and love each other
That's my family.
