

Nature

How peaceful and wonderful it is

As pure as an angel's kiss

As bright as an angel's heart

Its hope lighten up the sky

Its faith colours the grass

And its truth keeps the living alive

All creature great and small

All things bright and beautiful

All birds that sang a song

The love that whispers

The joy that flies around

The sound that laughs upon

The soldier it all

The prince have done it all

The nature created it all.
