

Photography

I cannot imagine
that I captured the Past.
And able to step inside
a memory of a lass.

She's staring at me
from across the centuries.
And never been thought,
that she was a ghost of worries—
a ghost preserved by Light.

I know it may not be possible to travel backward in TIME—
to control time.
But perhaps, I might say—
right now, I'm patiently holding the past—
and even its memories.

Febee CElia Q. Elemancil from Philippines