

The Weight of Silence

You will find in what I have written
The feeling that I have felt
You will find in what I have written,
All that I could not tell in front
You will find fear of not seeing you again and I sit in my place without saying a word
Feeling the regret of the weight of silence

Nadira from Algeria