

Thousand Persons Cannot Recover Absent of One

There was a world of peace,
Where there was no storm of grief
There was only peace and love
A dream world like heaven
Your shelter was over my head
Like an aspirin for all my sorrows
But now everything is altered
My life is complete yet incomplete
I remember you and your care for me
But hope ends with life
People says that absence of one person can't stop life
They don't know presence thousand persons can't recover the absent of one.

Nadra Ahmed from Pakistan