

Yesterday

With the rising of the sun,
Each morning;
We undertake our daily chores
What we do know is this
A day has been added to our lives
We endeavor for a better tomorrow
But we do not forget that there was;
Yesterday
There is not a tomorrow without a today;
And there is not a today,
Without a yesterday.
When all is said and done
No matter where, you've gone
People will always want to know;
Do you have a yesterday?
